PHOTOGRAPH BY ERIC ROTH

This welcoming children's bedroom by Andra Birkerts and Charles Myer matches the relaxed vibe of the rest of the family's summer home. Smartly designed bunks feature massive drawers for easy access to toys and games; ladders and nooks offer places to climb and hide; and bed-height windows allow the family's four children to enjoy natural breezes (the house is not air-conditioned) and great lake views. In choosing a palette, Birkerts referenced beach scenes; the hardwood floors are painted pale blue, while the window framing packs a summery orange punch.
